BIO

Erinn McKenna is an interdisciplinary artist and digital designer based in Brooklyn, NY. McKenna received their BA in New Media from SUNY Purchase in 2019. They combine their academic explorations in media studies and interactive technology with a lifelong interest in the natural world to create works that examine the intersections between the virtual and physical realms.

They work across sculpture, installation, and digital forms to address societal hierarchies, internet complexities, as well as the relationship between digital and living entities.
